MERCHANTS IN LIVELY PROTEST AGAINST NEW AUTO ORDINANCEAssistant County Physician Also Opposes Measure Before Supervisors

Between twenty and thirty members of the Merchants' Association appeared at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last night, to present objections to the Fort Street automobile ordinance, being attended by E. C. Peters as their attorney, and they made their objections stick.

Mr. Peters discussed the question of danger, giving the opinion that there was less danger from autos than from horse-drawn vehicles on Fort street. Autos standing on the street were mostly those used by women shoppers. He wanted it understood that he was there to make a protest, or to have a fight or a scrap. Merchants did not want to have their fronts blocked with three or four automobiles at a time. That would drive customers away. But under the proposed ordinance there would be a continual stream of autos in and out of Fort street, King and Hotel streets. Mr. Peters spoke of the property interests at stake, the rental of the Fort street dealers had to pay, and said the merchants on Hotel and Bishop streets did not want to have Fort street discriminated against. In time there would be a big business block on Bishop street opposite the Young Hotel, and then that street would have the same problem of autos. He suggested that the ordinance be referred to a committee and let him meet with the committee. Some persons had been mentioned as flagrant offenders in leaving their autos standing on the street, among them Mayor Fern, Building Inspector Mehlstein and a certain doctor. He believed the evil could be remedied under the existing law, against nuisances, but the merchants would not object to a time limit such as some other cities had. He presented a petition from Fort street merchants, but said merchants on adjacent streets were also concerned.

Side Street Situation. J. D. McInerney said the concentration of business houses meant a greater volume of trade, and merchants on side streets did not want their fronts used as auto stables for persons shopping elsewhere.

H. F. Wichman spoke of Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and Broadway, New York, as narrow thoroughfares comparable to Fort street, yet there was no prohibition of autos thereon. There had never been an accident on Fort street from autos.

Supervisor Murray corrected him there with an account of a collision between an auto and a street car on that thoroughfare, and Mr. Wichman said it must have been when he was away. It would be just as likely to happen on any other street. Murray did not think so, as there was room on King street for autos to pass outside of the tracks.

Attorney Milverton, being asked for information, said there was a law of 1859 against any unreasonable use of the streets.

J. C. Quinn, speaking for the auto men, urged the need of an ordinance. He said the merchants were too apt to jump up in hysteria on slight pretext, as when in his time as supervisor they tried to prevent the paying of Fort street because it would interfere with holiday trade.

Mr. Perkins, after a colloquy between Messrs. Peters and Murray, urged that any regulation should apply to the whole business section. J. R. Galt thought a policeman stationed on Fort street would be all that was required to prevent abuse of privileges. Merle Johnson said the prohibition in the ordinance would stop people from going into Fort street.

Mayor Fern declared himself opposed to the ordinance. The police could regulate the traffic, he said. Ever since a complaint was made against him some months ago he had stalled his auto at Schuman's garage. Supervisors Amans and McClellan justified their respective courses on the measure, and finally the ordinance was referred to the police committee, the attorney and the Merchants' Association committee.

Dr. W. L. Moore, associate city physician, wrote the board, saying: "I want to call to your attention the fact that the proposed auto ordinance as applied to Fort street will greatly interfere with the city and county work and the care of the sick."

"I have tried it out by leaving my machine at other places and however much I may dislike having my machine stand in the street it can scarcely be helped."

"As to its effect on trade on Fort street, I leave that to others, only I would call your attention that no accident has ever happened in this area. It would appear that trucks, carriages, etc., might with greater advantage be prohibited in this district."

C. P. MAHI QUALIFIES AS LEGAL CANDIDATE

Charles P. Mahi, candidate for representative from the first district, may have his name printed on the ballots, much wireless correspondence with the county clerk of Hawaii and a large amount of work over his nomination paper having finally developed the fact that he is duly qualified. Though his petition had thirty signatures of voters it was found that many had signed nicknames, abbreviations, and first names, and the sitting out of the proper signatures and locating them as registered voters proved a troublesome task.

HOW TO HAVE A GOOD COLOR

Beauty—real beauty—is more than skin deep. No cosmetic in the world can give the wholesome color, the bright eyes, the clear transparent skin that is the natural result of pure blood, proper diet and hygienic habits of daily life.

It is so easy and it is so easy for a woman to have the beauty which health alone can give. A safe and efficient tonic if the blood is weak, thin or impure (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are especially recommended), the avoidance of foods which will cause eruptions, and regular bathing of the skin. This is all and it is the only way. Most women will be interested in the following statement:

Mrs. P. D. Sowers, of No. 808 East 2nd street, Muscatine, Iowa, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People through their use my life was spared. When I was sixteen years old I became pale and weak. I was nervous and could not hold my head up. I was dizzy and tired. I didn't care for anything and talked only when spoken to. My heart was very weak and whenever I exerted any strength I became sick at the stomach. I had a fluttering of the heart and would get so dizzy that I could not stand. I was pale and became so weak that I had to leave school."

I grew worse all of the time and although the doctors changed my medicine every time they came, they were unable to help me. I had been under the doctors' care for eleven long months and they told my parents that they feared I was going into consumption. It was at this time, a friend persuaded me to give up the doctors' medicine and try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I can hardly describe the great change for the better that soon came over me. My appetite picked up and my eyes became so much brighter. I became healthier in every way, had a good, clear color and soon felt entirely well. I have never been happier people than we. I am always watching for a chance to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Box 176, Selenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Plain Talks to Women." It should be read by every woman and showing girl. A free sample of the new "Leaky Vessels" will also be sent you. Should you be unable to obtain Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in your locality they will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save Your Hair! Beautify It! Invigorate Your Scalp! Danderine Grows Hair and We Can Prove It

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.
